

The Political Economy of Reforms and the Costs of Populism (PERCOP)

Venue: Seminar Room DSEA, first floor Palazzo Levi Cases via del Santo 33, 35123
Padova

PROGRAMME

Thursday February 19

11.00-11.45 "Ne me quitte pas! School closures and electoral outcomes in France"
Marli Fernandes (University of Padua).

11.45-12.30 "Railroads and Populism: Technological Change, Market Integration, and Political Backlash in 19th-Century America", Massimo Anelli (Bocconi University)

12.30 – 14.00 Break

14.00 -14.45 "Backlash in the Backyard: Female Representation and Gender Attitudes in the UK", Margherita Negri (University of St Andrews).

14.45-15.30 "Social Media vs. Democracy: Evidence from the January 6th Insurrection", Carlo Schwarz (Bocconi University).

15.30 – 16.00 Break

16.00-16.45 "The Shift to Commitment Politics and Populism: Theory and Evidence", Massimo Morelli (Bocconi University).

16.45 – 17.30 "Fact-Checking Politicians", Francesco Sobbrìo (University of Rome Tor Vergata)

17.30-18.15 "Holding the Line: Institutions, Elections, and Democratic Backsliding", Edoardo Grillo (University of Padua).

Friday, February 20

9.00-9.45 "From Discontent to Ideology: Nonparametric Revealed-Preference Evidence on Populist Voters", Nina Nikaforova (Bocconi University).

9.45-10.30 "A remedy to the demand for bad policy" Paolo Roberti (Bozen/Bolzano University).

10.30 – 11.00 Break

11.00-11.45 "Populism and geographical sorting", Alessio Romarri (Universitat Autònoma de Barcelona).

11.45 -12.30 "The league of (no) sanctions", Roberto Bonfatti (University of Padua)